A Special Note Regarding Logging Out of Unified Classroom on a SHARED DEVICE

Unified Classroom is designed to make access for returning users easier by remembering the site last visited. Normally this isn't an issue, but if you are sharing a device with your student, or multiple siblings log into a home computer… special care should be taken to ensure that each individual is accessing the correct account. For example, if you were the last to log in/out in Chrome – when your student goes to log in, it may redirect them to your parent account. Similarly, siblings who both access their accounts via Google Single Sign On, could inadvertently log into the wrong account. If sharing devices, using different browsers solves this issue. We recommend that parents log in with Firefox, Microsoft Edge or Safari if they are sharing a home computer with a student so the student can use Chrome. It's not required, but we just want you to be aware of possible account crossover.
